THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

The Law Which Prevents Railroads From Hauling Wet Goods.

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia:

Sec. 1. That any agent or employee of any person, firm or corporation, carrying on the business of a common carrier, or any other person, who without a state license for dealing in intoxicating liquors, shall engage in the traffic or sale of such liquors, or be interested for profit in the sale thereof, or act as the agent or employee or consignee or consignor of the same, or who shall solicit or receive any order for the sale of any intoxicating liquors, or deliver to any person, firm or corporation any package containing such intoxicating liquors, shipped "Collect on Delivery," or otherwise, except to a person having a state license to sell the same, or to the bona fide consignee thereof who has in good faith ordered the same for his personal use, shall be deemed to have made a sale thereof contrary to law, and guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, and may at the discretion of the court be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months."

The C. & O. R. R. Company in pursuance of this law has notified its agents not to deliver any intoxicants to persons who have not ordered the same for personal use.

If a person wants whiskey for his own consumption he may order the same C. O. D. or in any other manner, but if he buys it to sell he involves the railroad company which delivers it to him in the same manner whether it be delivered prepaid or C. O. D.

The prosecuting attorney has announced his intention to push this law for all it is worth, and all the depot agents holding responsible and lucrative positions are inquiring into what a man wants with his liquor.

The law would apply equally to teamsters if they were sent out of the state for liquor.

This law in addition to the fact that the last Virginia legislature closed up the bar at the foot of the mountain in Bath county should have the effect of making Pocahontas a very dry county.

Barlow—Overholt.

Married at Hotel Whiteman, Colfax, Washington, June 16, 1903, by Rev. Ulysses Hawk, Mr. Peter H. Barlow and Miss Blanche Overholt, both of Farmington, Wash. The groom is a very worthy young man, formerly of Edray District, and highly esteemed by those who know him. The bride was beautifully attired in white organdie and carried brides roses. She is one of the twin daughters of W. E. and Mrs. Mary F. Overholt, formerly of Millpoint, and is a very popular young lady. We extend congratulations and wish these worthy young people a long prosperous and happy life. A FRIEND.

The Hymeneal calathump Friday night in honor of Mr and Mrs Willis Baxter and Mr and Mrs Ed Showalter was one of the most enthusiastic that ever roused the dormant echoes of the Marlinton hills.

Rev H. W. McLaughlin passed Marlinton Tuesday evening on his way to Louisville, Kentucky, and will preach his first sermon as pastor elect of the Stuart Robinson Memorial church next Sunday.

NOTICE TO TRESPASSERS.

All persons are hereby notified not to trespass on the land of the undersigned in any manner, especially by cutting timber and gathering berries and chestnuts, under penalty of the law.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO RECOGNIZE INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Citizens Will Shake off Troubles and Business and Devote the Day in Fishing, Strolling Around and Resting Up.

This is the Fourth of July week as you gentle reader probably have realized, but not to the extent of the enslaved printer who longs to sit beside Freedom on her Mountain Height and drink pink lemonade from the same bottle. This is the reason why so few papers make their appearance on the week of the glorious Fourth. It is not because we don't like to work. For that matter we never get tired. Change of work is half play you know, and a printer's mission lies all along the road from kissing the little newcomer of an early Sunday morning to laying a flower on the resting place of an aged citizen who had reached the Saturday evening of his life. But we printers are not satisfied with this daily routine from pole to pole. We want to declare our independence and organize a continental congress occasionally, and it is with a protest that we go about our usual duties on Fourth of July week. Our thoughts are hovering around the ragged edge where Freedom tore the azure robe of night and the place she put the stars of glory, and it is with an effort that we get them back to earth in time not to be cheated by the merchant who wants to trade us water damaged fire works which have nothing to recommend them other than that they are strictly harmless for a mid summer write up.

All the business houses of Marlinton have decided to close their places of business on Saturday July 4, in recognition of Independence Day. The following is a list of those who will observe the Glorious Fourth by closing their doors:

The Bank of Marlinton, First National Bank, J. A. Hoover, Paul Golden, A. Harrison, B. F. Hamilton, Allen Gay, R. B. Slavin, Kincaid & Pullin, The Marlinton Drug Store, W. A. Grove, The Marlinton Supply Co., M. W. Hogsett, C. J. Richardson, The Marlinton Messenger, Price Bros. Printers.

The Canoeist.

Messrs Webb and Beall, enthusiastic canoeists, have been camped at Marlinton, coming from Cass on the recent rise of the Greenbrier. Mr Webb is a prominent teacher of instrumental music of Staunton, who spends all his vacations camping on some stream. He has made many excursions to this County, the last being in 1895. He is an authority on canoe building, having written numerous book on this favorite subject. Mr Beall is from Frostburg, Maryland, and is well known in Upper Pocahontas where he has fished and camped for years. He, too, is a musician, his instrument being the violin. Each has his own boat and the amount of household and kitchen furniture they carry simply astonishes the natives who are accustomed to tote their plunder and a week's supply of provision on their backs. The voyagers expect to be two weeks on the way to Hinton, a distance of a hundred and thirty miles by water.

Notice.

The teacher preparing the best essay to be read at the County Institute in August 1903, will receive a medal from Mr. R. C. Montague and myself, which will be presented to you by my successor Mr. J. B. Grimes.

Respectfully, JAMES W. WARWICK, JR., County Supt. Schools.

A Pretty Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings ever known on Knappa Creek was that of Miss Maud E. Jordan and W. Peyton Moore, at Mt. Vernon M. E. Church South, at 3 o'clock on Thursday evening June 25, 1903, when their pastor Rev. J. D. Pope pronounced them one, in the presence of a large gathering of their relatives and friends.

The altar, platform and windows were decorated with spruce and laurel.

Miss Lucy Ryder accompanied by Amos Harold marched up the aisle and was seated at the organ and played the wedding march in a faultless manner while the wedding party came in in the following order; up the left aisle, Cam McElwee and Miss Nettie Jordan, Willis Gibson and Miss Kate McElwee, Roy Moore and Miss Berdie Jordan followed by the bride and groom; in the other aisle was William Gibson and Miss Sallie Gibson, Aaron Sharp and Miss Clara Jordan, Loyd Jordan and Miss Florence Moore.

The bride was dressed in French organdie trimmed in overlace and and ribbon, with veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white brides roses and the brides maids all wore white persian lawn trimmed in lace insertion and white ribbon, each carrying an embroidered hankerchief, a gift from the bride.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Hugh Jordan, who resides on Knappa Creek, but a native of Highland.

The groom is a son of Hon. I. B. Moore, who ably represented this county in the legislature a few years ago and is a promising young man.

After the ceremony the wedding party with relatives and invited friends returned to the home of the groom where a supper awaited them; about one hundred persons were present at the dinner and supper. The bride received many handsome presents.

On Friday they left for Washington and Baltimore where they will spend their honeymoon. May they ever be happy and useful citizens is the wish of
